EVENT REPORT

EVENT : WINTER BOOTCAMP
DATE OF EVENT : 15TH – 23RD JAN 2026
TIME OF EVENT : 9:00 AM TO 12:30 PM
VENUE : F-BLOCK SEMINAR HALL ROOM NO209
ORGANIZED BY : TRAINING AND PLACEMENT DEPARTMENT
SPEAKERS : MS. CHANDNI GROVER, MR. RAJAT, MR. PRANSHU
ORGANIZERS : MR. RAJAT, MR. PRANSHU

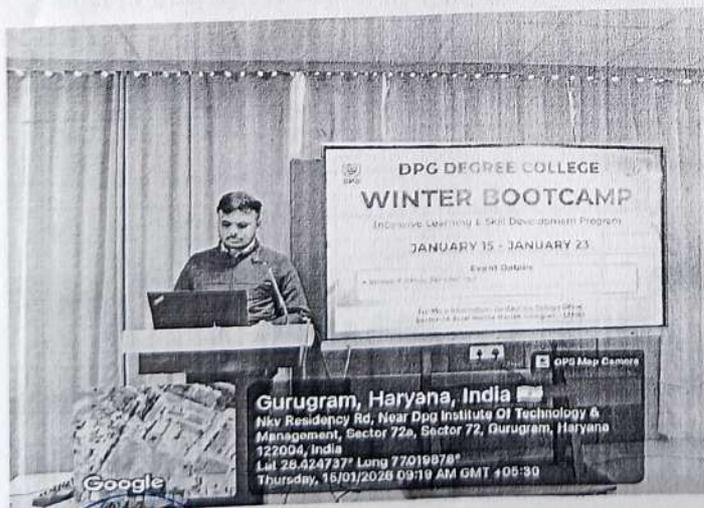

EVENT OBJECTIVE: The primary objective of the Bootcamp Program organized by the Training and Placement Department was to prepare students for upcoming placement opportunities by enhancing their technical knowledge, professional skills, and overall career readiness. The program aimed to build student confidence, improve employability skills, and provide structured guidance for systematic placement preparation.

SUMMARY: The Training and Placement Department successfully conducted a Bootcamp Program from 15 January 2026 to 23 January 2026. During the program, students received extensive guidance and motivation in key areas essential for career development. Special emphasis was placed on resume building, where students were trained to create professional and industry-ready resumes. Sessions on GitHub profile basics helped students understand repository management, project showcasing, and building a strong online technical presence.

Students were also mentored in mini project planning, including topic selection, project structuring, and effective implementation strategies. The bootcamp provided important insights into placement strategies, such as interview approaches, systematic preparation methods, and techniques to improve employability skills. Additionally, sessions on technical interview preparation covered Data Structures and Algorithms (DSA) questions and commonly asked technical concepts. Students were also introduced to current AI tools and their practical applications to enhance learning, productivity, and project development.

CONCLUSION : Overall, the bootcamp proved to be highly beneficial and interactive. It significantly helped students improve their technical competencies, gain clarity about placement preparation, and build confidence to face interviews. The successful completion of this program reflects the continuous efforts of the Training and Placement Department in supporting students' career development and preparing them for future professional challenges.
